Using 'because' to Join Sentences

Cut up both sets of phrases. Choose two that could be joined with a 'because' and stick them in your book, writing because in the middle to make a complete sentence.

For example:

She went to the park	because	she was meeting her friend

It was cold outside	Jo is my friend
He screamed	The girl was crying
She ran in to the house	I put my sunglasses on it was sunny.	he saw a monster.

she always plays with me.	it was winter.
she had lost her cat.	the dog was chasing her.

Using 'because' to Join Sentences

Copy each sentence and add an ending in your book.

It was cold outside because...

He screamed because

She ran into the house because...

Jo is my friend because...

The girl was crying because...

I put my sunglasses on because...

The teacher was pleased because...

I like chocolate because...

I am going home because...

The mouse ran away because...